

SNU Human Rights Center is here to promote and protect the human rights of SNU members.

1

Providing counseling, investigation, remedies regarding human rights violations (sexual harassment, sexual violence, assault on human dignity, violation of the rights to education, discrimination, etc.)

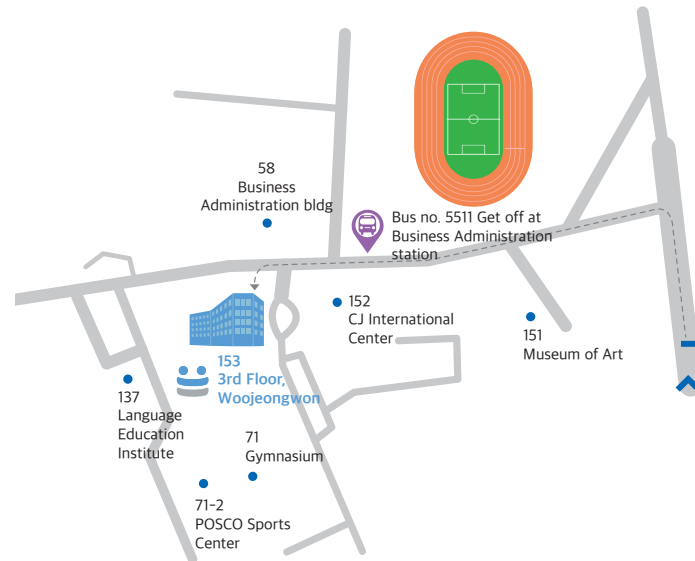

2

Developing and providing offline and online Human Rights and Gender Equality Education.

3

Conducting surveys to improve school policies and practices, running campaigns, providing lectures, coordinating student activities, etc.

Location

Counseling

Sexual harassment, sexual violence, and human rights violations

T : 02-880-2422, 2423, 2424, 2425

E : helpme@snu.ac.kr / helpyou@snu.ac.kr

Counseling session : 3rd Floor, Woojeongwon (Bldg 153)

*please make an appointment through e-mail or telephone before visiting the center

Human Rights and Gender Equality Education

Online Education

SNU Human Rights Center online (<http://helpims.snu.ac.kr>)

Login (MYSNU ID ▶ Course ▶ MY Classroom ▶ Complete the education

Offline Education

Providing customized education sessions regarding the needs of the applicants

Inquiry : 02-880-2427 / hrcedu@snu.ac.kr

Updates on our latest lectures, research, and activities

SNU Human Rights Center website (<http://hrc.snu.ac.kr>)

Guidebook for Respecting Human Rights in SNU

Universal Value
for All,

Human Rights

서울대학교 인권센터
SNU HUMAN RIGHTS CENTER

I need help with sexual harassment, sexual violence, or other human rights violations

Visit our Human Rights and Sexual Harassment-Sexual Violence Counseling Center

What kind of counseling is offered?

Sexual Harassment, Sexual Violence

Sexual violence crimes including rape and indecent act, sexual harassment (verbal, physical, visual), stalking etc.

Human Rights Violations

Human rights violations occurring on campus including discrimination based on prohibited grounds such as race and disability, unfair treatment, and verbal abuse.

What kind of help can I get?

- Measures to prevent further violations (no contact order, separation of parties)
- Supporting rehabilitation (psychological support, legal consultation, advice on coping with the case etc.)
- Seeking solution to resolve the case (mediation & arbitration, investigation, disciplinary action, alternative solution, etc.)
- Raising awareness of the perpetrator and preventing recurrence (apology, education, volunteer work etc.)

Who are eligible for our counseling service?

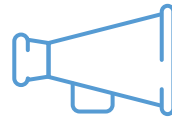

All members of SNU, including students, faculty, and administrative staff, can seek help from the SNU Human Rights Center. It is also possible to seek help when any of the alleged wrongdoers or the victims is a member of SNU.

How can I get help and what are the procedures I need to follow?

You can ask for the help you need by contacting us through e-mail or phone, or by visiting the center. Please contact us in advance to arrange an appointment before you visit the center.

If you are interested in human rights, join our programs

If you want to learn about and discuss human rights issues!

Open Human Rights Lecture Series

Lecture series on human rights theories and issues open to students and the public (July)

International Symposiums

Academic discussions on a topical human rights issue with human rights specialists (September)

Human Rights Forum

Special lectures by renowned human rights authors (twice a year)

If you want to participate in human rights activities or research!

SNU Human Rights Week

Human rights cultural event prepared with the student community

Human Rights Volunteer Program

Providing the opportunity for students to gain on-field experience in human rights organizations (May~December)

Human Rights Research Project Contest

Supporting undergraduate students' research on human rights topics (April~October)

Human Rights Thesis Award for Graduate Students

Calling for graduate students' thesis on human rights, and awarding the outstanding theses (August~October)

Human Rights and Gender Equality Education

- SNU Human Rights Center provides legally mandatory violence prevention education in areas of sexual harassment, sexual violence, prostitution, and domestic violence, in an integrated manner under the title of "Human Rights and Gender Equality Education."
- Every member should complete a 1 hour education for each area, once every year.

How to complete the Human Rights and Gender Equality Education

Online Education

Log on to the online education system website <http://helpims.snu.ac.kr>

- Log in with your MYSNU ID and password.

Offline Education

1. Apply for the customized Human Rights and Gender Equality Education session!

Visit our online education system website → download the application form → send the filled out form to hrcedu@snu.ac.kr (All SNU members are eligible to apply for the education session. The group applying for the session is recommended to consist of more than 10 people)

2. Attending regular and irregular Human Rights and Gender Equality Education lectures

Visit our website(<http://hrc.snu.ac.kr>) or Facebook page (HumanRightsCenterSNU), and check your SNU e-mail for the updates on our latest lectures

Inquires on applying for Human Rights and Gender Equality Education sessions

T. 02-880-2427 E. hrcedu@snu.ac.kr